Dear Reader,

"The real measure of our wealth is what we would be worth if we lost all of our money." JH Jowett

In the midst of the dismal headlines of news sources around the country, we must keep in mind what real wealth is and Who it is that is ultimately in charge of all things. (Col. 1:16-17) Undoubtedly, times like this will be a part of our life, and I would contend that they are here to reveal where it is we find our peace. (John 16:33)

At Inheritance Builders, our mission is to assist our clients in practicing quality stewardship of His resources, while encouraging the building of a multi-generational legacy of Spiritual dependence upon God. It is times like this that help us to graphically see where our trust lies.

Our clients can find rest in the midst of this storm knowing we've diligently sought to make sure you are in the strongest mutual fund families with long-term proven track records of weathering turbulent economic storms. Diversification always proves to be the wise course of action. In Ecclesiastes 11:2-3, God tells us through Solomon, to practice diversification. Who knows the direction that a tree will fall, but after it falls there it lies. If you are invested in all of the areas around the tree you will certainly experience loss, but you will also experience survival and possibly unprecedented growth as an abundance of light hits all of the other areas of investment.

Choosing Inheritance Builders to help you invest is a wise choice and I trust one you will not regret. But ultimately we should use this time of economic tribulation to grow in our dependence upon Jesus Christ for Whom all things were created. It is He who holds all things together. It is He that should be high and lifted up in our life, even before our portfolios! (Colossians 1:16-18) Even if every one of the investments in your portfolio is down, it does not change Who's in charge. Wisdom is really knowing where to place one's trust and finding peace regardless of the storms of life.

Joy in Him!
